

1. Is the purpose of the Crestron Occupancy Sensor in each room to shut down the system when no occupants present, or are more functions required ? Shutdowns will be based on occupancy status and time of day. Additionally occupancy status will be indicated in Crestron XiO and Fusion to provide real-time occupancy feedback of maintenance scheduling.
2. In rooms where 'ALS' (Assistive Listening System) is indicated on 1-lines, can we assume that this will be OFE gear that connects to the room system, since no ALS equipment is specified? Correct, the assistive listening system in these rooms will be an I/O plate with an XLR input and output. To be used by user-connected equipment.

6. Re: 'Computer Pods':_No IT room rack is specified , and it is unclear whether it is OFE or to be by AVC. Please clarify. Rack for AV equipment for computer pods room will be located in the 2nd floor IT closet (2-S1). Rack layout and location indicated on pages TA-401 and TN-401. AV equipment will be located in the same rack as other telecom equipment. Not sure if this is considered OFE since it will be provided as part of the project, but the AV contractor would not need to provide this rack, it should be supplied by others in coordination with network installation.
7. Re: 'Digital Signage': CO #03 Spec shows (2) Digital Signage displays. In what areas are these to be located? Digital signage located in 1st floor lobby, room 100A. See TA-101 and TA-410 (item 4) for location.
